Study title:	Describing images in a new language
Principal Investigators:	Prof. Jennifer Culbertson

What is this document? This document explains what kind of study we're doing, what your rights are, and what will be done with your data. If there are any special benefits or risks, they will be explained here. You should print this page for your records.

Nature of the study. You will learn a new language to describe images, and then construct description of different images using a set of simple, clickable icons. You will be given full instructions shortly. Your session should last for around 15 minutes.

Compensation. You will be paid £2.25 for your participation in this study.

Risks and benefits. There are no known risks to participation in this study. Other than the payment mentioned, the only benefits to you personally are those you draw from making a contribution to our knowledge about language and its use.

Confidentiality and use of data. All the information we collect during the course of the research will be processed in accordance with Data Protection Law. In order to safeguard your privacy, we will never share personal information (like names or Prolific IDs) with anyone outside the research team. Your data will be referred to by a unique participant number rather than by name or IDs). Please note that we will temporarily collect your Prolific ID to prevent repeat participation, however we will never share this information with anyone outside the research team, and we will store it securely using a secure encrypted storage service. The anonymised data collected during this study will be used for research purposes.

What are my data protection rights? The University of Edinburgh is a Data Controller for the information you provide. You have the right to access information held about you. Your right of access can be exercised in accordance Data Protection Law. You also have other rights including rights of correction, erasure and objection. For more details, including the right to lodge a complaint with the Information Commissioner's Office, please visit www.ico.org.uk. Questions, comments and requests about your personal data can also be sent to the University Data Protection Officer at dpo@ed.ac.uk.

Voluntary participation and right to withdraw. Your participation is voluntary, and you may withdraw from the study at any time and for any reason. If you wish to withdraw from the study after you have participated, please contact the researchers within 1 month. We will delete your data and there is no penalty or loss of benefits to which you are otherwise entitled.

If you have any questions about what you've just read, please feel free to ask, or contact us later. You can contact us by email at jennifer.culbertson@ed.ac.uk.
